RUN THE COMPANY · ORGANIZE THE PROPERTIES · VALUE ANY BUILDING

The operating system for real estate companies.

One place for a real estate team's buildings, leases, contacts, conversations and private comps. Value any U.S. commercial property in about a minute, with every comp and its source shown.

PROBLEM

What a firm knows is scattered and slow to use

- It walks out the door. Comps live in personal spreadsheets, lease dates in inboxes, contacts in phones. When someone leaves, the firm loses what they knew.
- Valuations are slow. Pulling comps by hand takes hours, and the databases that speed it up are priced for big firms.
- Numbers arrive without proof. A value with no evidence under it does not survive a client or lender who pushes back.

THE SOLUTION

One system for the firm, with valuations that show their work

INDIVIDUAL Data	Your private comp library. Import past deals from a spreadsheet, PDF or screenshot and they appear in your reports, labeled as yours, private until you share or publish them.
COMPANY Home	The firm's shared page: its buildings, leases, contacts, deal conversations, and every report a colleague has shared. Colleagues see only what someone chooses to share.

HOW IT WORKS

From an address to a client-ready report

1. Value it. Enter an address. In about a minute: a value range, the comps behind it on a map, and a source on every comp, with your own and your firm's comps blended in.
2. File it. Add the property to the firm's buildings. Its sheet gathers the firm's reports, comps, leases and notes.
3. Share it. Put the report on the firm's shelf, push chosen comps from your Data, and discuss the deal in Messages.
4. Track it. Upcoming lease deadlines sit on one list, and The Board flags new comps in the markets you follow.
5. Deliver it. Send the client a PDF or PowerPoint with your firm's logo, or a link you can revoke.

VISION

Every real estate company runs on CompNinja: what it knows compounds instead of walking out the door, and every search makes the next valuation better grounded.

Every valuation is an automated estimate, not an appraisal. CompNinja is not a licensed brokerage; when an owner needs an opinion of value, we connect them with a licensed local broker.
